

Lesson #3 – part 3

Isaiah and the Holiness of God

Isaiah 6:1-10 (NET1)

What did Isaiah need to give him the proper perspective and endurance to persevere in such hard times?

God gave to Isaiah—a dramatic revelation of His _____.

Sidebar – Cherub/Cherubim and Seraph/Seraphim

- These are multi-form animal creatures who are portrayed in the Bible as guardians of God's throne room.
- No one in the Bible ever meets cherubim in day-to-day life, and they are not the same as angels who can cross between the spiritual and human realms.
- Cherubim are only ever seen by prophets who have dreams or visions of the heavenly throne room of God.
- Cherubim are first mentioned in the Bible as guardians of God's space in Eden where heaven and earth overlap. Genesis 3:24.
- Some have "two wings" and some have "four wings."

The role of the Cherubim

- The cherubim play the role of throne room _____, the choir praising the King, and the supporters or carriers of the divine throne.
- In Isaiah's vision, he sees into the heavenly throne room and describes creatures with "_____", and he calls them "_____."

Seraph/Seraphim: This is one of the main Hebrew words for _____, particularly venomous ones (see Numbers 21:6, Deuteronomy 8:15, and Isaiah 14:29).

"Seraph" means to _____. Seraphim are described as having faces, hands, and feet (this is an _____) and are powerful creatures that do God's will.

They appear to be involved with _____ God and are in proximity to his throne.

Isaiah confessed his own _____ and that of his people as well.

Isaiah confessed he was _____ and that he lived among a people with the same malady. Matthew 12:32-37 (NET); Romans 3:10-14 (NET)

What is God attempting to accomplish in Isaiah's life by this vision?
